TABLE OF COMMONWEALTH LEGISLATION PASSED DURING THE YEAR 1944 IN RELATION TO THE SEVERAL PROVISIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

NOTE.—This Table is designed to group, under the several provisions of the Constitution, the enactments of the Federal Parliament passed by virtue of, or in relation to, these provisions.

Its object is to facilitate reference to all the Commonwealth legislation relating to any particular provision of the Constitution, so that it can be readily ascertained whether and to what extent the legislative power of the Commonwealth has been exercised in relation to that provision or to its subject-matter, and (in the case of those provisions of the Constitution which are expressed to have effect "until the Parliament otherwise provides") whether any other provision has been made.

The Table does not purport to be either authoritative or exhaustive. Enactments may incidentally derive support from, or relate to, other provisions of the Constitution than those with which they are primarily connected; but no attempt has been made to tabulate other than direct and obvious relations. For instance, almost every enactment made by virtue of a specific legislative power may derive additional support from section 51 (xxxix.); but the only enactments which have been tabulated under that provision are those in which the incidental element appears to preponderate.

A Table of Commonwealth legislation passed from 1901 to 1943 in relation to the several provisions of the Constitution will be found in Volume XLI. of the Commonwealth Acts (1943), p. xcxciii. A similar table appears in each annual volume of Acts prior to 1943 with references to Acts passed up to the end of the year to which the volume relates.

“ 221H.—(1.) An employee from whose salary or wages a deduction is made in accordance with this Division and upon whom a notice of assessment is served shall, not later than the date specified in that notice as the last day for payment of the tax, produce to the Commissioner the pages of the book to which any tax stamps duly delivered to him are affixed and any group certificate issued to him in respect of a period prior to the close of the latest year of income in respect of which a notice of assessment has been served on him, and the Commissioner shall—

- (a) if the sum of the amount represented by the face value of such of those stamps as were delivered to the employee prior to the close of the latest year of income in respect of which a notice of assessment has been served on him, and the amount shown in any such certificate does not exceed the tax payable by the employee—credit that sum in payment or part payment of that tax ; or
- (b) if that sum exceeds that tax—credit in payment of that tax so much of that sum as is equal to that tax, and pay to the employee an amount equal to the excess.

“(2.) Where an employee produces to the Commissioner the pages of a book to which any tax stamps duly delivered to him during any year of income are affixed or a group certificate issued to him in respect of any year of income or any period included in any year of income, and the Commissioner is satisfied that there is not and will not be any tax payable by the employee in respect of the income of that year of income or any previous year of income, the Commissioner shall pay to the employee an amount equal to the amount represented by the face value of those tax stamps or the amount shown in that certificate, as the case may be.

“(3.) If the amount credited by the Commissioner in pursuance of paragraph (a) of sub-section (1.) of this section is less than the amount of tax payable by the employee the Commissioner may credit in payment or part payment of that tax an amount equal to the face value of any other tax stamps duly delivered to the employee and produced by him to the Commissioner or any amount shown in any other group certificate so produced if he is satisfied that it is desirable to do so by reason of special circumstances and that the amounts which will have been deducted in pursuance of this Division from the salary or wages of the employee prior to the close of the year of income in which those other stamps or certificates are so produced will be sufficient to pay the tax payable by the employee in respect of the income of that year of income.

“(4.) If the amount credited by the Commissioner in pursuance of the foregoing provisions of this section is less than the amount of tax payable by the employee—

- (a) the Commissioner shall apply the amount so credited in payment, so far as that amount extends, of such tax payable by the employee as the Commissioner determines, and that amount shall be deemed to have been paid by the employee in satisfaction, to that extent, of that tax, and not otherwise; and
- (b) the employee shall be liable or continue to be liable (as the case may be) to pay the remainder of that tax on the date or dates specified in the notice or notices of assessment, and all the provisions of this Act relating to the collection and recovery of tax shall apply to that remainder.

“221HA.—(1.) Subject to this Division, the provisions of this Division shall apply in relation to an interim stamps receipt as if it were a page of a book to which were affixed tax stamps (duly delivered to the employee in accordance with this Division during the year of income specified in the receipt) of a face value equal to the amount for which the receipt is issued, and the production of any such receipt in accordance with the provisions of this Division shall have the same effect as the production of tax stamps, duly delivered to the employee during that year, of a face value equal to the amount shown in the receipt.

" (2.) In sections two hundred and six, two hundred and seven, two hundred and eight, two hundred and nine, two hundred and fourteen, two hundred and eighteen, two hundred and fifty-four, two hundred and fifty-five, two hundred and fifty-eight and two hundred and fifty-nine of this Act, but not in any other section of this Act, 'income tax' or 'tax' includes provisional tax.

" (3.) The ascertainment of the amount of any provisional tax shall not be deemed to be an assessment within the meaning of any of the provisions of this Act.

Liability to
tax.

" 221YB.—(1.) For the purpose of enabling the income tax which will be payable by taxpayers to whom this Division applies to be collected during the financial year for which the income tax is levied, a person, other than a company (except in the capacity of a trustee), deriving assessable income, not being salary or wages, shall be liable to pay provisional tax in accordance with this Division.

" (2.) Subject to the next succeeding sub-section, provisional tax shall be payable in respect of the income of the year of income ending on the thirtieth day of June, One thousand nine hundred and forty-five, or the accounting period (if any) adopted under this Act in lieu of that year, and in respect of the income of all subsequent years.

“(3.) Provisional tax shall not be payable in respect of the income of any year of income unless the Act declaring the rates of income tax payable for the financial year for which income tax is imposed upon taxable income of that year of income provides that provisional tax shall be payable in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

“221yc.—(1.) Subject to this section, the amount of provisional tax payable by a taxpayer in respect of the income of any year of income shall be—

provisional tax.

- (a) where the assessable income derived by him in the year next preceding that year of income did not include salary or wages—an amount equal to the income tax assessed in respect of the income of that next preceding year; or
- (b) where the assessable income derived by him in that next preceding year comprised salary or wages together with other income—an amount equal to such part of the income tax so assessed as the Commissioner determines.

“(2.) Where the rates of income tax declared by the Parliament (other than the rates of income tax payable by a company) for any financial year are higher or lower than the rates declared for the next preceding financial year, the provisional tax otherwise payable in respect of the income to which those first-mentioned rates are applicable shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, to such extent and in such manner as are prescribed.

“(3.) Where a taxpayer liable to pay provisional tax in respect of the income of any year of income commenced, during the year next preceding that year of income, to derive assessable income (other than salary or wages) from any source, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, estimate the amount of assessable income which would, in his opinion, have been derived from that source in that next preceding year if the taxpayer had commenced, at the beginning of that year, to derive assessable income from that source, and the amount of provisional tax payable shall be the amount which would have been payable if the taxpayer had derived from that source, in that next preceding year, in addition to any other assessable income derived by him, the amount of assessable income so estimated by the Commissioner, and had been assessed for income tax accordingly.

“(4.) Where a taxpayer did not derive, during the year next preceding the year of income, assessable income (other than salary or wages) in excess of One hundred and four pounds, and that taxpayer has, up to the thirty-first day of March in the year of income, derived assessable income (other than salary or wages) in excess of One hundred and four pounds, he shall, not later than the fifteenth day of April in the year of income, or within such extended time as the Commissioner allows, furnish to the Commissioner a return, in the form provided by the Commissioner for the purpose, showing the amount of assessable income derived by him up to the thirty-first day of March in the

“(5.) The amount of provisional tax payable by a taxpayer to whom the last preceding sub-section applied shall be the amount which the Commissioner estimates, from the return furnished in pursuance of that sub-section or from any other information in his possession, will be the income tax payable by the taxpayer in respect of the income (other than salary or wages) of the year of income.

“(6.) For the purposes of sub-section (1.) of this section, the income tax assessed in respect of the income of any taxpayer derived during the year ending on the thirtieth day of June, One thousand nine hundred and forty-four, or the accounting period, if any, adopted under this Act in lieu of that year, shall be deemed to be the amount of income tax which would have been so assessed if no rebate has been allowable in pursuance of Division 18 of Part III. of this Act, and, for the purposes of sub-section (3.) of this section, in ascertaining the income tax which would have been payable in respect of the income of that year of income or accounting period if the taxpayer had derived an amount of assessable income estimated by the Commissioner, no rebate under that Division shall be taken into account.

provisional tax
payable.

“221YD. The amount of provisional tax payable by a taxpayer in respect of the income of any year of income may be—

- (a) notified on the notice of assessment of the income tax payable by that taxpayer in respect of the income of the year next preceding that year of income, and in that case shall be due and payable on the date specified in that notice as the date on which tax is due and payable; or
- (b) specified in a notice served by the Commissioner on the taxpayer, and in that case shall be due and payable on the date specified in the notice, not being less than thirty days after the service of the notice.

Provisional
tax to be credited against tax assessed.

“221YE. Where a taxpayer has paid provisional tax in respect of income of any year of income, and income tax has been assessed in respect of that income, or the Commissioner is satisfied that no income tax will be payable in respect of that income, the Commissioner shall credit the amount of that provisional tax in payment successively of—

- (a) such income tax (if any) as is payable by the taxpayer in respect of that income;
- (b) any other income tax payable by the taxpayer; and
- (c) any provisional tax notified to the taxpayer in respect of the income of the year next succeeding that year of income, and shall be liable to refund to the taxpayer the amount of that provisional tax not so credited.

“221YF. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Division, provisional tax shall not be notified to a taxpayer in respect of the income of any year of income where the Commissioner has made an assessment in respect of that income.

Provisional tax not to be notified where income tax assessed.

“221YG.—(1.) Where an alteration of the amount of provisional tax notified as payable by a taxpayer is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, necessary, by reason of the amendment of any assessment of income tax or otherwise, the Commissioner may make the necessary alteration and shall notify the taxpayer in writing of the altered amount.

Alteration of notice of provisional tax.

“(2.) Upon the service of a notice under the last preceding sub-section—

- (a) if the amount of provisional tax payable is increased, the additional amount shall become due and payable on the date specified in the notice, not being less than thirty days after service of the notice ; or
- (b) if the amount of provisional tax payable is reduced, the Commissioner shall credit any provisional tax overpaid in payment of any income tax payable by the taxpayer and refund to the taxpayer any amount of provisional tax overpaid not so credited.

“221YH. The production of a notice of assessment or other notice on which an amount of provisional tax payable by any person is specified, or of a document under the hand of the Commissioner, Second Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner purporting to be a copy of any such notice of assessment or other notice, shall be prima facie evidence that the amount of provisional tax and all particulars relating thereto are correct.”.

Release of liability of members of Defence Force on death.

- (a) where the assessable income of the year of income consists solely of such pay and allowances—from the amount of income tax so payable by the trustee ; or

 - (i) from the amount of income tax so payable by the trustee ; or

- (u) from the amount by which the income tax payable in respect of the income of the year of income has been increased by the inclusion of such pay and allowances in the assessable income of that year or those years, whichever is the less.

“(2.) Nothing in the last preceding sub-section shall be construed so as to authorize or require the Commissioner to refund any amount paid as or for income tax by or on behalf of the taxpayer or his trustee.

“(3.) The provisions of sub-section (1.) of this section shall not apply in any case where the death of the taxpayer has occurred in circumstances (including the circumstances of his service) in which the Commonwealth would not be liable to pay pensions under the Australian Soldiers' Repatriation Act 1920-1943 to the dependants of deceased members of the Forces.

“(4.) Any decision of an authority acting under the Australian Soldiers' Repatriation Act 1920-1943 on any question affecting the right of any dependants of a deceased member of the Forces to a pension under that Act in respect of his death shall, so long as that decision has not been reversed or overruled, be conclusive evidence of the matters of fact or law so decided for the purposes of the application of the last preceding sub-section in relation to that deceased member of the Forces.

“(5.) In this section, ‘tax deductions unapplied’ means the amount of any deductions made in pursuance of Division 2 of Part VI. of this Act from pay or allowances earned by the deceased person as a member of the Defence Force, being deductions which have not been credited in payment of tax, and in respect of which a payment has not been made by the Commissioner.”.

3. Section sixteen of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) by omitting from paragraph (f) of sub-section (4.) the word “or” (last occurring); and

(b) by adding at the end of sub-section (4.) the following word and paragraph:—

(h) the Secretary, Department of Defence, the Secretary, Department of the Navy, the Secretary, Department of the Army, or the Secretary, Department of Air, for the purpose of the administration of any law of the Commonwealth relating to payments in respect of dependants of members of the Defence Force.”.

4. After section fifty-three of the Principal Act the following sections are inserted:—

“53A.—(1.) The estimated cost of deferred maintenance shall, subject to this section, be an allowable deduction.

Deferred
maintenance.

* Act No. 27, 1936, as amended by No. 88, 1936; No. 5, 1937; No. 46, 1938; No. 30, 1939; Nos. 17 and 65, 1940; Nos. 58 and 69, 1941; Nos. 22 and 50, 1942; and No. 10, 1943.
† Act No. 3, 1944.

“(2.) A deduction shall be allowable in respect of deferred maintenance where the taxpayer—

- (a) has, during the year of income during which the need for the deferred maintenance first arose, made an application in writing to the Commissioner for the allowance thereof as a deduction ;
- (b) has furnished with the application a detailed statement of particulars of the deferred maintenance and the estimated cost thereof ; and
- (c) has paid to the Commissioner, at the time of making the application, a sum equal to the estimated cost of the deferred maintenance.

“(3.) The amount allowable as a deduction shall be such amount as, in the opinion of the Commissioner, is reasonable.

“(4.) Where the sum paid by a taxpayer in pursuance of paragraph (c) of sub-section (2.) of this section exceeds the amount allowable as a deduction under this section, the Commissioner shall repay to the taxpayer the amount of the excess.

“(5.) Where, in pursuance of the last preceding sub-section, the Commissioner has repaid the amount of any excess and the Board of Referees, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon it by section fifty-three E of this Act, has increased the amount allowable as a deduction, the taxpayer shall pay to the Commissioner, within thirty days after service on the taxpayer of notice of the decision of the Board, a sum equal to the amount of the increase.

“(6.) For the purposes of this section, maintenance—

- (a) the need for which first arose during any of the three years of income next preceding the year of income ending on the thirtieth day of June, One thousand nine hundred and forty-five ; and
- (b) which the taxpayer was unable to undertake by reason of circumstances attributable to the present war, shall be deemed to be maintenance the need for which first arose during the year of income ending on the thirtieth day of June, One thousand nine hundred and forty-five.

“(7.) Where—

- (a) the estimated cost of deferred maintenance in respect of which an application is made under sub-section (2.) of this section includes an amount representing the estimated cost of maintenance the need for which is, by virtue of the last preceding sub-section, deemed to have first arisen during the year of income ending on the thirtieth day of June, One thousand nine hundred and forty-five ;
- (b) the total amount allowable as a deduction from the income of that year of income, in respect of the estimated cost of deferred maintenance, exceeds the amount of income remaining after deducting from the assessable income of that year all other allowable deductions ; and

(c) the Commissioner considers it would be just and reasonable in the circumstances to do so, the total amount allowable as a deduction may be deducted partly from the assessable income of that year of income and partly from the assessable income of any one or more of the three immediately preceding years of income.

“(8.) In this section, ‘deferred maintenance’ means the maintenance of property, whether real or personal, in a normal state of repair or upkeep where—

- (a) the need for the maintenance first arose in the year of income and prior to the termination of the present war;
- (b) the taxpayer was unable to undertake the maintenance by reason of circumstances attributable to the present war; and
- (c) the expenditure upon that maintenance would have been an allowable deduction under section fifty-one or fifty-three of this Act if it had been actually incurred by the taxpayer.

Repayments.

“53B.—(1.) The Commissioner shall repay the whole or part, as the case requires, of any sum paid in pursuance of the last preceding section—

- (a) upon application in writing made at any time after the expiration of six months from the date upon which the sum was paid;
- (b) where the taxpayer—
 - (i) dies;
 - (ii) becomes bankrupt or executes a deed of assignment or arrangement for the benefit of his creditors; or
 - (iii) being a company, commences to be wound up, upon the Commissioner becoming aware of the death, bankruptcy, execution of the deed or winding up; and
- (c) in any other case—after the expiration of two years after the termination of the present war.

“(2.) Where any amount is repaid to the taxpayer in pursuance of paragraph (a) or (c) of the last preceding sub-section, that amount shall be included in the assessable income of the taxpayer of the year of income in which it is repaid.

“(3.) Where any amount is repaid in pursuance of paragraph (b) of sub-section (1.) of this section, that amount shall be deemed to be assessable income derived by the taxpayer on the day prior to the date of the death, bankruptcy, execution of the deed or commencement of the winding up, as the case may be.

“53c.—(1.) Where a deduction in respect of the estimated cost of the deferred maintenance of any property has been allowed under section fifty-three A of this Act and—

deductions of deferred
maintenance.

- (a) it appears to the Commissioner that the amount of the deduction, or the total amount of the deductions, so allowed exceeds the amount which the taxpayer has actually incurred or will incur, either prior to, or within two years after, the termination of the present war in undertaking that deferred maintenance; or
- (b) that property is destroyed, discarded, sold or otherwise disposed of before that deferred maintenance is undertaken, the Commissioner may, if he considers the circumstances warrant it, determine the excess of the amount or total amount so allowed over the amount which it would be reasonable to allow.

“(2.) Any excess so determined shall be included in the assessable income of such one or more of the years of income from the income of which a deduction was so allowed as the Commissioner determines, and the amount included, or to be included, as assessable income in pursuance of sub-section (2.) or (3.) of the last preceding section shall be reduced by the excess so determined.

“53d.—(1.) Where a taxpayer has, for purposes primarily and principally connected with the prosecution of the present war, made alterations to, or in the position of, any property (being plant or articles in respect of which depreciation is allowable as a deduction under section fifty-four of this Act), expenditure (not being expenditure incurred in making structural alterations or additions to buildings) incurred by him during the year of income in making those alterations, or in re-establishing, removing or re-arranging that property after those alterations have been made, shall be an allowable deduction.

Alterations to plant

“(2.) Where any such expenditure creates an enduring benefit to the taxpayer which would not have arisen if the alterations had not been made, the deduction otherwise allowable under the last preceding sub-section shall be reduced by an amount equal to the value of the enduring benefit so created.

“(3.) The amount of the deduction which would otherwise be allowable under this section shall be reduced by the amount (if any) of the expenditure which the taxpayer has been recouped or is entitled to be recouped by any person, where the amount recouped or to be recouped is not or will not be included in assessable income.

“(4.) Expenditure which is allowable as a deduction under this section shall not be taken into account as part of the cost of the property for the purposes of section sixty-two of this Act.

“53e.—(1.) Where a taxpayer is dissatisfied with any decision of the Commissioner under section fifty-three A, section fifty-three C or section fifty-three D of this Act, he may, within sixty days after

Reference to a Board

service on him of notice of the decision, request the Commissioner, in writing, to refer the decision to a Board of Referees, and the Commissioner shall refer the decision accordingly.

“(2.) Upon every such reference, the Board of Referees shall review the decision of the Commissioner and shall give a decision in writing either varying or confirming the decision of the Commissioner.

“(3.) Every decision under this section by a Board of Referees shall be final and conclusive, and the Commissioner shall give effect to the decision.

“(4.) The provisions of Division 2 of Part V. of this Act shall not apply in respect of any matter which, under sub-section (1.) of this section, may be referred to a Board of Referees.”

5. Section seventy-two B of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) by omitting sub-section (1.) and inserting in its stead the following sub-section :—

The Commonwealth shall guarantee that the State will perform all its obligations to bond holders in respect of the moneys so borrowed. For all the purposes of this Agreement, including the making of sinking fund contributions, the moneys so borrowed shall be deemed to be moneys borrowed by the Commonwealth for and on behalf of that State.

(3.) (3.) Where in respect of any debt included in the gross Public Debt of a State existing at the 30th June, 1927, there is under laws or contracts existing at that date an obligation to provide a sinking fund at a rate in excess of 7s. 6d. per annum for each £100, any amount to be so provided in excess of 7s. 6d. per annum for each £100 shall be provided out of the National Debt Sinking Fund, established under the laws of the Commonwealth.
